1. The cemetery derives its importance from: (check all that apply)

☒ Important Person(s) buried on site	☐ Stone Carver	☐ Monument Manufacturer
☐ Landscape Designer/Architect	☒ Military Significance	☐ Unique Burial Practices
☒ Unique Grave Markers	☐ Historical Event	☐ Significant Broad Pattern in History

Burial listings will be accepted. The Pineville Methodist Cemetry is one of the earliest surviving cemeteries in Monroe County. The earliest internment is a 2-year old boy, Willia L. Stallworth, in 1843. He is the son of M.P. Stallworth, one of the early settlers & prominent land owners in Pineville. It was not until 1865 whe burials began to consistently occur. This coincides with the March 9, 1854 land conveyance from Samuel Dubose to a group of trustees to construct a house of worship for the members of the Episcopa Methodist Church South. Trustees included James Burgess, James M. Harrington, William B. Preston, A.C. Ramsey, & Duncan McKenzie; all early settlers of Pineville & founders of the Pineville Methodist Church. (Deed book E page 230).

A number of early settlers, prominent land owners & families, and Confederate army veterans rest in the Pineville Methodist Cemetery. Of the earliest settlers to Pineville, Mark Parker Stallworth, Rebecca William Preston, Richard Dickinson, among others are buried in the Pineville Methodist Cemetery. Prominent families include Preston, Stallworth,

3. Dates of Significance (first burial, burial of significant person/family, date of last burial, etc): 1843; 1865-1998
Despite the destruction of the church in 1910, interments in the cemetery remained strade through the 1960's. Since this time, the number of interments steadily declined unt the most recent burial in 1998.

Harrington, and Steele. Two Confederate Army veterans are buried in the Pineville Methodist Cemetery: 1st Lieutenant John Burns of the 5th Alabama Infantry, and Private Robert L. Stallworth of the 8th Alabama Cavalry and Bradford's Scouts.

The cemetery is one of the few surviving resources of the historic community of Pineville. Not only is it closely tied to one of the counties earliest Methodist churches, those that were buried in the cemetery have contributed to the development of the Pineville Common and, later, to the nearby town of Beatrice. The burials span across critical periods of American & Southern history, including the Antebellum Period, Civil War, Reconstruction, Progressive Era, Depression, World Wars, etc.
